PROGRAM BIO

Deborah Biddle is a keynote speaker, TEDx presenter, executive coach, and founder of The People Company Consulting Group. She works with leaders who need to address recurring problems: decisions that stall, feedback that comes too late, and concerns employees hesitate to raise.

Deborah began her career in corporate finance and accounting. Today, she works with leaders in business, healthcare, and nonprofit organizations. She is the author of No More Patch Jobs: Stop Renovating Exclusion and Start Designing for Belonging. Deborah holds a bachelor's degree in finance from the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign and an MBA from Keller Graduate School of Management.
